Langley Hospice Residence...

- Creates a unique environment of warmth and compassion that helps individuals and families maintain the highest quality of life when faced with a life-limiting illness.
- Strives to maintain a home-like setting, where hospice professionals and volunteers provide care for the physical, emotional and spiritual well-being of the patient, while supporting family members.
- Emphasizes specialized care aimed at relieving the symptoms and pain of life-limiting illness rather than affecting a cure.

Fraser Health and the Langley Hospice Society work together to provide a wide range of meaningful and fulfilling services to patients and their families through generous donations from the community.

Operated by

Langley Hospice Society...

- Supports the Hospice Residence through specially trained volunteers who bring emotional, social, spiritual and practical support, as needed, to patients and families.
- Provides bereavement support to individuals and their families who are experiencing grief because of a family member's life-limiting illness. This support may also continue after the death of their loved one.
- Bereavement support can include: individual support, one-to-one visiting volunteers, and grief support groups for children, teens and adults.

The Langley Hospice Society is a registered charitable organization responsible for the administration of donations for the Langley Hospice Residence.
